Love is in the Air...

February is traditionally a time for expressing love and here at Helping Hands, we’re lucky to be surrounded by lots of love from our monkeys, staff, recipients, volunteers, and supporters alike. It’s a month for giving and receiving.

February 8th is particularly special, as it marks the beginning of the Year of the Monkey and we are fortunate to be able to bring love and joy to the lives of our service monkey applicants. The Monkey is a symbol of intelligence, flexibility, and adaptability. Throughout Chinese history, it has come to symbolize the beginning of a new era. The Monkey Helpers’ Year of the Monkey kicks off with our Valentine’s Day event. Perhaps you'll plan to attend The Monkey Helpers’ Annual Food Festivale on October 22nd or join with some friends to run a supply drive for our Wish List. There are many ways to connect and we hope you’ll choose the Year of the Monkey as a good time to increase your involvement with Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers.

As always, we thank you for your continued support. Please know that because of you, there are many monkey-helper applicants that will be able to celebrate their own Year of the Monkey when they are matched with one of our service animals in 2016.

Last Chance for Monkey Grams

Melt the heart of that special someone this Valentine’s Day with the monkey handprint heart Monkey Gram. A message will be included that indicates a donation has been made in their honor to Helping Hands.

Meet the Monkeys!

Grooming is a way for monkeys to show signs of affection. Here at The Monkey College, monkeys will groom each other and their trainer. In a recipient home, monkeys and recipients groom each other. It is a special thing to receive a “Monkey Manicure.”

Learn about “Bucket”

Imagine, for a moment, that you cannot reach the bin to recycle an empty water bottle—wouldn’t that be frustrating? Throwing something away is no problem for one of our service monkeys—this is the task we call “Bucket.”

Add the winner to:

Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers and email alerts at anytime and receiving updates. But not only will you receive updates, you will be able to view our adoption board, send Monkey Grams, purchase Monkey Hugs, and learn about the latest in our training and enrichment programs for our service monkeys.
