Spring Forward!

Have you been experiencing unusually warm weather this winter? Here at The Monkey College, we’ve been able to enjoy the mild temperatures, and the service monkeys and students are often enjoying the warm weather. It makes it easier for them to enjoy outdoor activities and for us to take care of them. When the temperatures get too cold, we’ll be sure to find a way to keep them warm.

March is MS Awareness Month.

Did you know that when Helping Hands matched 5,000 dollars this March, the award-winning television series “Monkeys” was able to have some of its scenes filmed at The Monkey College? The show is a popular series that has won numerous awards and has been nominated for several others. The scenes were filmed in the Enrichment Room, where the monkeys can relax and enjoy some time between classes. When our service monkeys in training have some free time, they often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep a close eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Meet the Monkeys!

When our service monkeys are training, they often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Blipper of the Month

Helping Hands monkeys are great at making a difference. They always seem interested in what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Meet the Monkeys!

When our service monkeys are training, they often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Blipper of the Month

Helping Hands monkeys are great at making a difference. They always seem interested in what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Meet the Monkeys!

When our service monkeys are training, they often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Blipper of the Month

Helping Hands monkeys are great at making a difference. They always seem interested in what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Meet the Monkeys!

When our service monkeys are training, they often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.

Blipper of the Month

Helping Hands monkeys are great at making a difference. They always seem interested in what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing. They often like to keep an eye on what goes on in our classroom. They always seem interested in what the other students are doing.