Thankful for You:

With the calendar year coming to a close, November is the perfect time to reflect and practice gratitude for all the good that has passed us at Helping Hands. We are looking forward to wrapping up an amazing fifth year, thanks in no small part, to you. Your generosity is the reason that our recipients are able to lead more independent lives and that our monikers continue to amaze us. We hope that you will continue to support our work through the giving season.

Recipient Mary and Michelle

In honor of Women's Month, we are highlighting two heroines. While helping with Lisa, help arrived with the call of 40 hands. While caring for their child, the family found themselves struggling to make ends meet. The care quickly arrived and then found herself surprised by the emotional support the website had able to provide.

- "Although I'm old, I still look up to you as my protector. I don't feel as dependent on them anymore. If it were not for everyone involved, I know I wouldn't have the help I have today."

Assisting people who were regulars while caring for another country is very important to helping hands. Learn more about our work with veterans.

Seasons of Giving

Do you have plans for your holiday shopping? Make your calendars for Giving Tuesday on December 3. Giving Tuesday is a global day of giving to celebrate all that good our community (and not) does. Donations of any size on Giving Tuesday have an impact, multiplier, and increase.
